Clerk Bock Addresses Florida's Constitution Revision Commission

April 2017

Clerk Bock addresses the Constitution Revision Commission on April 7 in Boca Raton.

It only happens every 20 years. The Constitution Revision Commission, comprised of 37 appointed members, reviews Florida's Constitution to make recommendations on changes to the Florida Constitution. The commission is making stops throughout the state to hear public concerns and suggestions. On April 7, Clerk Bock addressed the CRC regarding the importance of the state's independently elected constitutional officials and the vital roles they play in the system of checks and balances
